Bittersweet October. The mellow, messy, leaf kicking, perfect pause between the opposing miseries of summer and winter.

~Carol Bishop Hipps

Did you Know?

Did you know that the word autumn comes from the French word, automne? The word came into common usage around the 16th century, before which "harvest" was used to refer to this time of year.
The use of harvest fell out of popularity as people gradually began living in towns and working the land became less common.

From Jeff's Desk

As you can see...this newsletter is not focused on building or remodeling. It does not mention replacing your kitchen or upgrading your master bathroom. We didn't even suggest that you might want add a sunroom off of your eating area. We focused on the season...Autumn. While we love building new homes, renovating existing homes and building additions to enhance our client's living conditions, we clearly recognize that there are many things in life of much greater value than a nice master suite! The heat of summer is waning, football season has started, the leaves will soon be turning, the days are getting shorter...take some time to enjoy everything that this fall season has to offer before you have to "bundle up" to shovel that driveway in a few months!
